The Honorable Jeane J. Kirkpatrick

Dear Ambassador Kirkpatrick:

It has become a tradition at the Central Intelligence Agency each year during the month of March for the Federal Women's Program to offer special programs designed to raise our awareness of the varied contributions of women employees and to foster greater understanding and support for women. In March 1987 the CIA will join our nation in the observance of "National Women's History Month." We celebrate not only the achievements of women of the past, but honor American women who, like yourself, play a vital role in our society today. I would like to extend an invitation to you to be the guest speaker for this special occasion.
